

A young boy plays with his bicycle in the paddy field which is completely submerged by the flood due to incessant monsoon rains at a village close to the banks of river brahmaputra on the outskirts of guwahati city