Description- The pictures were taken at Ganesh Ghat, Tezpur (Assam). This was during the sunset time when the pictures were clicked. It was winter season at that time. The river was silent and had a majestic view during the sunset. I went to Tezpur for an internship at DRL, DRDO and when I had this opportunity to visit the Ganesh Ghat, I grabbed it as soon as I could. I know the beauty of Ganges back at my city Kolkata and so I wanted to see Brahmaputra eagerly. I was overwhelmed with joy when I first saw the Brahmaputra and so was my friend who accompanied me. It was so pleasant and beautiful.
